

Visitor Center

[CHALLENGE]

The Town Point Park pavilion in downtown Norfolk Virginia underwent a $14M renovation in the summer of 2009. The events that take place at Town Point Park require facilities for the event staff, celebrity guest and caterers. The goal was to produce high end facilities, but because the park is located in a high wind/flood zone, permanent construction was prohibited.

[SOLUTION]

Modular Genius worked with the architects to create modern new look for the temporary buildings. Kalwall – High Performance Translucent Wall Panels were used for the exterior of each building creating a bright interior and a modern exterior appearance. Custom aluminum walkways were designed with wire mesh so that the contemporary structures were not concealed by unsightly rails and pickets. The final result is impressive.
