

Modular Research Facility for Ashley Addiction Treatment Center

Havre de Grace, Maryland

The Challenge

Ashley Addiction Treatment, a healthcare organization based in Havre de Grace, Maryland, needed additional office space at its existing campus to support its operational needs. Expanding within an established treatment facility required careful coordination of building placement, site preparation, permitting, and utility infrastructure. The organization needed a practical modular office solution that could be incorporated into its existing property while accommodating the requirements of an active healthcare campus.

The Solution

Modular Genius provided a 1,536-square-foot, single story modular office building. The two-module facility was designed to provide additional administrative workspace at Ashley Addiction Treatment's Havre de Grace location.

The project scope included modular building transportation, foundation construction, building installation, including steps, decks, and ramps. By coordinating modular building delivery with foundation work and site preparation, the project established a streamlined approach to adding office space without relying entirely on conventional site-built construction.
