

University Team Sports Modular Building

Harrisonburg, VA

The Challenge

A large public university in Virginia needed space for their women's field hockey program to hold team meetings. Due to the desired budget and timeframe of this project, they determined that purchasing a modular building was the fastest and most economical solution.

The Solution

Modular Genius, Inc. designed and built an 864 sq. ft. modular building featuring a large open space for team meetings, two single occupant restrooms, and an IT closet. The modular building also features ADA compliant ramps and steps for accessibility. The modular building was installed over the summer break to minimize disruption to campus and took 23 days from set up to completion.
