

Modular State Police Station

Baltimore, MD

The Challenge

The State Police, in Maryland, were in need of a temporary police station, while their main headquarters was being built over the next four to five years. This station needed to be utilized as a fully functional station.

The Solution

Modular Genius was up for the challenge. To prepare this station, a sturdy holding area with tight cell locks needed to be installed, as well as a roll call area, booking station, and reception space. This was all accomplished, and this station is, a fully functional state police station for the State of Maryland.
