

Modular Multi-Person Bunkhouse

Crawfordville, FL

The Challenge

The US Department of Fish and Wildlife in Crawfordville, Florida was in need of a bunkhouse for their employees. They determined that a modular building was the quickest and most cost effective solution. Modular Genius was contracted to design and install the building to meet their needs.

The Solution

Modular Genius, Inc. designed and built an 720 sq. ft. modular bunkhouse building, featuring three bunk rooms with a closet for storage, two single occupant restrooms with showers, and a full kitchen with a dining area. The portable classroom building was installed with metal aluminum steps. The installation of this modular building was complete in eight days, from delivery to occupancy.
